in 1964, in the form of geological surveys followed by a number of reconnoitry and semi-detailed traverses across the entire territory. It also alleges that the same design is being used with some minor modifications. The imputations made in the said news report are incorrect. Complete re-engineering of the dome of Kaiga-II has been carried out which takes due consideration of the deficiencies which could have contributed to the delaminations. The re-design provides for adequate margin to take care of any eventualities. The re-engineering of Unit-1 dome is one hand and will be implemented after appropriate regulatory approval.
